Mrs. Dmytriw began her professional career with Ciba-Geigy Corporation, working in the Aerospace industry as a Safety and Environmental Technician, initially hired for a two million dollar soil and groundwater remediation project. As the Aerospace business withered in the South Florida area, she went to work for the Law Offices of Jason A. Diamond, a law firm dedicated to understanding Florida's traffic laws and regulations. Currently, Mrs. Dmytriw is employed with Broward County Government as the Senior Safety and Occupational Health Specialist in the Risk Management Division.

Passionate about Human Development, Mrs. Dmytriw has been actively involved with the Association for Talent Development (ATD). Recently she earned her CPLP designation, which is a widely recognized certification in the field of training. Last year she designed a training program that was recognized at the annual ATD Champions of Learning Awards. Through Broward County's Facilitation Certification Program, Mrs. Dmytriw recently became a Level 2 Facilitator. This distinction is awarded only to candidates able to demonstrate proficiency in program design, delivery methods and program evaluation methods.

Mrs. Dmytriw maintains her technical knowledge through membership in the National Safety Council, American Society of Safety Engineers, and the Association for Talent Development.
