

René R. Salazar, Ph.D., CIH

Rene' Salazar holds an undergraduate degree in microbiology, and Masters and Doctorate degrees in Public Health from the University of South Florida College of Public Health. Dr. Salazar is an Assistant Professor at the University of South Florida College of Public Health, where he teaches undergraduate and graduate courses in Public and Environmental Health, and Occupational Health and Safety. Dr. Salazar is certified by the American Board of Industrial Hygiene as a Certified Industrial Hygienist (CIH), which certifies him to practice comprehensively in the field of industrial hygiene; he is well recognized among the scientific and professional communities for his work in this regard. Dr. Salazar's research interests are varied, but include indoor environmental quality of non-industrial indoor environments and, more specifically, the implications of biological agents within.