

Thomas C. Amore is originally from Beverly, Massachusetts and is a 1985 graduate of Boston College. He earned his Juris Doctor cum laude from Stetson University College of Law in 1991. Tom has been a member of both the Massachusetts Bar and the Florida Bar since 1991 and is a member of The Middle District of The United States District Court.

Early in his career, Tom litigated for Liberty Mutual Insurance Company in Massachusetts in the area of worker's compensation defense. After transferring to Liberty Mutual's Tampa office, he became interested in mediating and started his mediation career in 1997 with the OJCC of Tampa as a state mediator. Tom continues to mediate and arbitrate as a self-employed private mediator in matters of civil, commercial, employment, long shore and worker's compensation claims. Tom was certified by the Supreme Court of Florida as a Civil Mediator in 2001. He is also a Florida Supreme Court Appointed Arbitrator.

Thomas Amore has conducted over 10,000 mediations.
