

WILLIAM H. ROGNER, ESQUIRE

William H. Rogner was born in Charlotte, North Carolina on January 14, 1965. Bill was a 1987 honors graduate of the Warrington School of Business Administration at the University of Florida. He went on to the University of Florida's Levin College of Law, where he graduated, again with honors, in 1990. While at the University of Florida, Mr. Rogner was a member of the Lambda Chi Alpha social fraternity, Florida Blue Key, and the Justice Campbell Thornal National Moot Court Board.

After graduation, Mr. Rogner practiced briefly with another firm before founding Hurley & Rogner, P.A. in 1992. The firm, now known as Hurley, Rogner, Miller, Cox & Waranch, P.A., has grown to include six offices and nearly 100 employees. Mr. Rogner became a Florida Bar Board Certified Workers' Compensation lawyer in 1996. Three years later he achieved Florida Bar Board Certification as an Appellate Lawyer. He continues to represent employers, carriers, and servicing agents in an active trial practice. In addition, he has handled over 300 appeals addressing myriad legal issues before the District Courts of Appeal, the Eleventh Circuit Court of Appeal, and the Supreme Court of Florida.

Mr. Rogner is AV rated by Martindale-Hubbell and is annually recognized as a "Super Lawyer" by Law & Politics. He is the immediate past Chairman of the Florida Bar's Workers' Compensation Section of the Florida Bar. Mr. Rogner resides with his wife, Carmen, in Orlando. Mr. Rogner maintains a second home in his wife's home country of El Salvador and also is an avid traveler, golfer, and sailor.
