CEO and founder of Virtual Physical Therapists. Prior to starting Virtual Physical Therapists, Aideen's background has included teaching orthopedics in a Physical Therapy program, National Director of Clinical Operations for ArgosyHealth – an Onsite PT company, and most recently owned an outpatient clinic in King of Prussia, PA. Aideen's career has focused around seeking ways to improve care delivery. Her time with Onsite laid the foundation of virtual care...first by partnering with only the best trained clinicians, focused on empowering the patient with their individual task-based goals. She has presented at the National Nurse Case Manager's Conference as well as numerous employer and industrial conferences.
