

Everett Tanner Holloman

Tanner Holloman was appointed Director of the Division of Workers' Compensation in 2002. Since his appointment, the Division's management philosophy has been focused on continuous organizational improvement and efficiency, while leveraging technology and innovative ways to encourage self-execution of Florida's workers' compensation system.

Prior to his current appointment, Tanner served as Assistant Director of the Division of Risk Management, Department of Insurance; Director of Administration, Department of Education; Bureau Chief of General Services, Department of Education; Bureau Chief of General Services, Office of the State Courts Administrator, Supreme Court of Florida; and Sr. Management Analyst II, Department of Insurance.

In 1987, Tanner received his Bachelor of Science degree in Economics from Florida State University. While attending FSU he was also a member of the football team, lettering in both the 1985 and 1986 seasons. Tanner is married and has four daughters.