

Bob Patterson

Bob has specialized in and developed extensive experience in the fields of wellness, injury prevention and ergonomics. In 1997, Bob formed Briotix Health to deliver ergonomic consulting services, related software and cost containment programs to workers' compensation payors and employers. Through a sophisticated combination of injury prevention services, streamlined ergonomic incident management, web applications, and the disciplined and scientific application of ergonomic and behavioral science principles, Briotix Health enables its clients to contain costs and optimize productivity. Bob earned his Master's degree in Physical Therapy (M.P.T.) in 1993 from Mount Saint Mary's College, CA. This followed a Bachelor of Science in Kinesiology from UCLA in 1991. He completed his Masters of Business Administration (M.B.A.) at California Lutheran University in 2010.
