

Hope is a Priceless Gift that Heals

When Max, an adorable boy from Minnesota, was in the hospital, he spent hours and hours looking at videos about Give Kids The World Village in Kissimmee, Florida. One year later, after completing treatment for a Stage 4 Wilms kidney tumor, five-year-old Max went there himself!

Give Kids The World Village is an 89-acre, whimsical nonprofit resort, that provides week-long, cost-free wish vacations to critically ill children and their families from around the world who want to visit Central Florida. Families that visit Give Kids The World must be referred by one of more than 250 wish-granting organizations or foundations, such as Make-A-Wish Foundation.

A stay at the Village is much more than a weeklong vacation; it's a chance for these families to laugh together, play together, and create unforgettable memories away from hospital stays and medical treatments.

"It gave him something to look forward to," Max's mom said. "Words cannot describe the healing as a family that took place there. It was magical. It was the most valuable, therapeutic experience for all of us. Everyone working there was so excited to be there and help all the children. Max loved the miniature golf course. His favorite part was the dinosaur at the end."

Last year, the Village closed to wish families like Max's due to the global pandemic, delaying more than 6,000 wishes. Despite the closure, the Village created a unique opportunity last December for visitors and donors to experience – Night of a Million Lights. Night of a Million Lights was designed to raise funds to ensure that the wishes of critically ill children could return bigger and better than ever before once the time was right to reopen. Last year, USA Today named Night of a Million Lights the "Number One Thing To Do in December in Orlando."

It was such a huge success that the Village has decided to do it again this year and the Workers' Compensation Institute is playing its part in bringing it back. WCI has organized a Gala event "Winter Wonderland" to be held December 11, 2021 in conjunction with GKTW's second annual Night of a Million Lights.
